

School Contracts

Sorted can place a regular school counsellor in your school on a weekly basis to provide cost effective one to one counselling for pupils. We offer the school access to specialist psychological support by offering therapeutic intervention to children and young people displaying a variety of complex behaviours or difficult feelings. We work with young people within school settings to help them with such issues as managing feelings of anger and aggression, anxiety and stress, low confidence and self-esteem, bereavement, bullying, self-harming behaviours and family issues.

Engagement of our service enables schools to fulfil their commitment to PSHE and support those young people requiring additional intervention in order to be able to participate fully with education and learning.

Many schools choose to fund this through the use of Pupil Premiums where available, evidencing their commitment to the additional needs these children have.

We engage a highly skilled and professional team of specialist counsellors to work within our service. All of our counsellors have enhanced DBS checks, substantial training in Safeguarding and experience or qualifications in working therapeutically with children and young people. They are members of the British Association of Counsellors and Psychotherapists and uphold the requirements of their membership such as regular supervision, continuing professional development and adequate insurance.

Please contact us to discuss your school's needs and we will be able to find the most suitable level of support for your pupils.
